MEDICINAL.

IT'S CHILD'S PLAY

To treat a woman for a disease year after year and give her no permanent relief. Yet that has been the case with scores of women who have "doctored" for year after year unhelped and unhealed, to find at last that a few bottles of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Pierce's Favorite Prescription would have saved years of suffering and a great deal of money. For the regula-tion of the periods, the stop-ping of disagree-able drains, the healing of inflam-mation and ulcer-ation, and the cure of female weakness, there is no medicine can equal Dr. Pierce's F no medicine can equal Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"About five years ago I had very poor health," writes Mrs. S. E. Whalen, of Holden, Johnson Co., Missouri, "After doctoring four years with our town doctors they gave my cas up; said they had done all they could. I had been confined to my bed haif my time; the other half could hardly drag around. I had such pains in my back and abdomen I could not stand for more than a few minutes. My feet were cold or burning, and my periods came too often. The doctors said it was change of life, so, as I had heard of Dr. Pierce's medicines, my husband got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' I took it and it helped me in some ways, so I wrote to you and followed year advice. I commenced 'Favorite Prescription,' Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Pellets,' as I was so constipated all the time and pills would weaken me so that I would have to go to bed. To the great aurprise of everybody I got well, and when I met my friends they would say, 'We never thought you would be here now,' But I can say it was your medicine, which no doubt is the best in the world. Have had no use for doctors since I tried your medicine."

WILHELMINA'S WEDDING

A correspondent of an English paper writes as follows of Queen Wilnelmina's wedding gown;

"The wedding dress of Wilhelmine will be, perhaps, the most magnificent bridel robe of modern times. It has been designed, as it is to be finally made up, in Paris, and meantime the marvel-ous embroideries which will constitute one of its mest notable features are being executed in the Royal School of Art Needle sork in cr junction with the R jks Museum at Amsterdam. This i-stitution follows closely the model of the similar school at South Kensington and is directed by More, van Emstede Windler, a lady who is a practical worker herself. She has selected her eight or nine most highly skilled students, one of whom, Mrs. Tue Laer, is an American by birth, and for some weeks past the ladies have all been conticuously employed upon their beautiful task. "The entire dress itself is to be of "The entire dress itself is to be of cloth of silver, so exquisitely supple and fine in txture that it suggests those I dian muslins of our grandmothers which could be pulled through a ring. It has been specially woven, and, naturally, at great cost. The dress will be made up over the richest white glace -ilk, and the bright shimmer of the tis-sue is enhanced thus. The full court rain two and a half yards on the ground falls from the waist and is surrounded by two broad hands of embroidery.

"The general idea of this is detached

"The general idea of this is detached sprays of orange blossoms and their toniage connected in artistic style by ecrols and ribbons. Each cluster of the flawers has a single fully opened bloom and is surrounded by buds more or less developed. Fine seed pearls are being used for these, while the foliage is indicated by silver threads. In addition to the pearls no fewer than six kinds of silver-bullion twist are employed to produce the different effects required, and most of the interlacing required, and most of the interlacing ribbon suggested is highly raised. "The embroidery is worked upon the silver tissues and the white silk foundaselver is immediate and a cure follows. "The Queen's mother will wear at the ceremony a dress of a beautiful tone of helictrope velvet, the bodice draped with lace and mousseline de soie.

"At the conclusion of the honeymoon it is the intention of the Queen to spend ome days in the capi al city, and while there to hold a court or reception in there to hold a court or reception in the famous ballroom, with its 120 feet of length and its impressively high white marble walls. Here, it will be remembered, the young Queen gave the great bat quet tothe members of the Peace Conference, and it is a noble setting to any grand scene. The dress that the Queen will wear on this occasion will be of the richest white velvet, with a full train decay bordered and fully lined with the choicest ermore. To be worn with it there will mine. To be worn with it there will be a cloak to match of white velvet and ermine, and all the great fur markets of the world have been ransacked to find skins of the highest quality and faultless match."

BALTIMORE, MD.

The paper of the people, for the people and with the people. Honest in motive, fearless in expression and sound in principle.

The Sun is the highest type of a nowspaper. The Sun's special correspondents throughout the United Stafes, as well as in Furope, south Africa, China and, in fact, all over the world, make it an up-to-date new spaper. The market reports and commercial features put the farmer, the perchant and the broket in close touch with the markets at Baltimore, Norfolk, Caarleston, New York, thirego, Philadelphia and other places which are prominent centres.

From now on the news of the world promises to be more interesting than ever before, and national and political questions will arise, making probably the most eventful period in the country's history.

This, together with the corps of editors and reporters at Baltimore, Washington and New York, make the Sun invaluable to its reseers.
